Chapter Six- Lower Studies

For the above ticker symbol or another one of your choice, find that tool on your analysis website (www.stockcharts.com, for example, if you don't have a broker yet), and draw:

MACD (Moving Average Convergence Divergence).

- What are the fast and slow lines telling you?
- Can you identify bearish and bullish trends?
- What does the crossover mean?
- How does the Histogram help you?

STOCHASTIC:

- What is the Fast Line telling you?
- How is this different from the Williams %R? How are they the same?

RSI (Relative Strength Indicator)

Chapter Six- Lower Studies

- Give a brief definition.
- How is this helpful to you?

Define the Buy and Sell "set ups" on the lower studies.

How does combining the lower studies with the upper studies help you expand your perspective and decisions?
